Geneva Centre for Autism International Symposium

November 11th - 13th, 2020

VIRTUAL CONFERENCE

#AUTISM2020

Geneva Centre for Autism's International Symposium brings together over 1,300 professionals, researchers, educators, parents, and service providers from around the world to learn about the latest research and clinical practices in the field of autism! We've been holding this conference since 1986 and the autism community relies on us to hear the most up-to-date information from internationally renowned speakers.

As we navigate the COVID-19 landscape and with the interest of public safety in mind, we have decided to host this year's International Symposium online. We will be hosting a virtual conference which will provide a fully comprehensible conference experience which will include:

- A virtual lobby with a 3D look and immersive feel
- An auditorium for all speakers, keynotes and panels
- An interactive exhibit hall
- A poster session
- A networking lounge

"FANTASTIC!!!! As a parent of a child with autism and a mental health professional, I found this profoundly helpful. I was so inspired by the abilities/strengths-based perspective and really appreciated the active involvement of people with lived experience as co-presenters."

"Fantastic. I learn so much every time I attend this conference. The variety of speakers, professionals, and resources is excellent. This conference is the best training I have ever attended. It is updated, relevant, and a great opportunity for professionals, parents, and individuals on the spectrum to assemble together and share information, ideas, and demonstrate mutual respect for everyone's role."
