2023 CPS Annual Conference

In-person

Accredited

The CPS Annual Conference is heading East!

On May 25 – 27, approximately 950 delegates from across Canada, including paediatricians, paediatric subspecialists, paediatric residents and other health care professionals are expected to join together in Halifax, Nova Scotia to take part in the 2023 CPS Annual Conference.

This accredited, in-person educational event will include a wide range of learning forms and topics, always with the emphasis on the latest research and practice developments in child and youth health. The CPS Annual Conference is also the perfect opportunity for conference delegates to network with their peers, mentors and sponsors.

We welcome pharmaceutical, vaccine and health product manufacturers to work with the CPS to support the conference and physician education through the following sponsorship opportunities:

ONLINE EDUCATION FROM THE CPS

Virtual

Online education modules are an essential way to help health care providers to continue their professional development, while expanding their medical knowledge. To further assist with this, the CPS has designed and developed its own online learning portal and medical education management system Pedagogy.

With this system, learners can find accredited educational opportunities that suit their learning preferences, and access learning resources and tools that are robust, reliable and competency-based. Our 1-hour Pedagogy online education modules are free for CPS members and remain live for 1 year, which allows family physicians, paediatricians, subspecialists, nurses and pharmacists the opportunity to learn at their own pace.

Through the support of an education grant, Pedagogy Online Education Module Sponsors allow CPS content experts and electronic instructional designers to develop a variety of online accredited courses that will highlight various topics focused on child and youth health. The courses will be current, evidence-based and balanced.

Recognition Benefits:

- Course remains online for 1 year
- 1 complimentary (individual) registration to the sponsored online education module
- Opportunity to renew course module(s) after 1 year
- Opportunity to reach:
 - 8000 family physicians
 - 5000 paediatricians and subspecialists
 - 7500 health care professionals (including nurses, pharmacists and other allied health care professionals)
- Your company name displayed on the CPS website
- Invitation to the Sponsor Recognition Event at the 2023 CPS Annual Conference, with the CPS Board of Directors and senior staff in attendance
- One-on-one meeting with CPS leadership and CPS staff
- Corporate recognition in a 2023 edition of CPS News

CPS National Grand Rounds Series
$50,000 - exclusive sponsorship opportunity

Virtual

National Grand Rounds

The first Tuesday of every month

To enhance CPS accredited learning opportunities and fulfil the continued interest in virtual education, the CPS has developed a National Grand Rounds series. The CPS National Grand Rounds includes accredited, 1-hour webinars that are held on the first Tuesday of every month. Each webinar focuses on a different paediatric topic and is hosted by a CPS subspecialty section. The CPS National Grand Rounds series is exclusive and complimentary for the 3600 CPS members, including paediatricians, paediatric residents and allied health professionals. Recordings of the webinars are available for 1 year. To date, approximately 150 CPS members have participated in each of the CPS National Grand Rounds webinars.

Recognition Benefits:

- CPS National Grand Rounds invites only one sponsor for the series
- 1 (individual) complimentary registration for the National Grand Rounds Series
- Recognition at (each) National Grand Rounds virtual session
- Opportunity to co-develop a Special Edition webinar (held on a Thursday during the National Grand Rounds series)
- Your company name displayed on the CPS website
- Invitation to the Sponsor Recognition Event at the 2023 CPS Annual Conference, with the CPS Board of Directors and senior staff in attendance
- Corporate recognition in a 2023 edition of CPS News

Lifelong Learning in Paediatrics Courses

In-person

Accredited

Lifelong Learning in Paediatrics Courses (LLPS) allow paediatricians, family physicians, paediatric residents and health care professionals the opportunity to enhance their knowledge and diagnostic skills in a relaxed and focused environment. The courses, which attract an average of 100-125 participants concentrate on specific content areas. The daily plenaries and workshops allow for open discussion and hands-on learning, which enhances the popularity of these educational opportunities. Because they are intimate in size, LLPS offer sponsors a unique opportunity to build brand awareness by networking one-on-one with and promoting their products to a specialized, captive audience.

CPS – 2023 Fall Lifelong Learning in Paediatrics Courses:

1. Winter LLP - Lake Louise – January 27-29 2023

at Fairmont Chateau Lake Louise

Child & Youth Health

Your support with an unrestricted grant will allow the Canadian Paediatric Society to enhance its work in areas that CPS members have deemed a priority in improving the health and well-being of Canadian children and youth. Over the next year, the CPS will focus on projects and initiatives that are outlined in the CPS Strategic Framework www.cps.ca/en/about-a-propos/strategic-framework. Additionally, the CPS will continue to advocate on key child and youth health issues as identified by CPS leadership.

The Canadian Paediatric Society's top priorities are:

Pursue health equity for First Nations, Inuit and Métis children and youth:

- Facilitate the routine use of clinically relevant guidelines to care for Indigenous children and youth, ensuring that these guidelines reflect the unique nature of providing health care in remote communities
- Advocate for improvements to existing mechanisms for service coverage and delivery
- Enhance health professional education on Indigenous child and youth health
- Be an active participant in reconciliation with Indigenous communities

Strengthen child and youth mental health and mental health care:

- Increase the competency of child and youth health providers to promote mental wellness and to prevent, diagnose and treat mental health disorders in children and youth
- Advocate for expanded access to publicly funded treatment for children and youth, including psychology, school-based mental health and developmental services, and specialized inpatient and residential programs
- Support families with children and youth struggling with mental health issues
- Enhance the ability of health professionals to prevent and treat misuse of marijuana, alcohol and other substances

Expand access to safe and effective medications and therapeutics:

- Advocate for increased access to life-saving and life-sustaining medications, formulations, therapeutics, medical supplies and other essential health care services
- Advocate for a federal drug and medical device regulatory framework that meets or exceeds international best practices
- Guide and support appropriate "off-label" drug use for children and youth
- Promote child health research, with a focus on paediatric medications, therapeutics and clinical trials

Nurture early childhood development:

- Educate clinicians about key concepts in social and emotional development
- Improve parent understanding of social and emotional development and what they can do to support it
- Promote supportive relationships as fundamental to healthy child development
- Promote the integration of the science of adverse childhood experiences into clinical practice
- Promote an integrated system for early child development services and programs that is evidence-based and universally-available

Protecting children and youth through better immunization programs:

- Advocate for better immunization programs across the country
- Work with the Federal, Provincial and Territorial Ministers of Health towards the creation of an immunization schedule and a true national registry

Recognition Benefits:

- Opportunity to co-develop an accredited, education symposium with the CPS at the 2023 CPS Annual Conference (at an additional cost)
- Recognition with your corporate logo displayed on the CPS website for one year. Placement of logo is at the discretion of CPS
- Invitation to meet one-on-one with CPS leadership and senior staff to discuss key child and youth health issues
- Invitation to the Sponsor Recognition Event that is held during the 2023 CPS Annual Conference, with the CPS Board of Directors and senior staff in attendance
- Corporate recognition in a 2023 edition of the CPS News
