PLANNING AHEAD: OPTIONS FOR THE TRANS COMMUNITY

Freezing your reproductive tissue (sperm or eggs) prior to, or even after (in some cases) gender-affirming hormones or surgery will allow you the flexibility to decide when starting a family is right for you. Embryo freezing is also an option if you have a partner or donor you are ready to work with.

TREATMENT OPTIONS FOR TRANS INDIVIDUALS

RMA's team approach offers personalized care. When you work with RMA, you will be assigned a dedicated team of practitioners who will customize your treatment plan based on your unique needs. Treatment options may include:

- Intrauterine insemination (IUI)
- In vitro fertilization (IVF)
- Preimplantation genetic testing
- Anonymous or known sperm donation
- Egg or embryo donation
- Gestational surrogacy
- Resources for establishing legal parentage

For every hopeful parent, the path to building a family is different. We believe in helping your dream come true - because family is family.

FAMILY-BUILDING OPTIONS FOR TRANSGENDER INDIVIDUALS

Gender-affirming hormones and/or surgery can affect your fertility and ability to have a biological child in the future. Reproductive Medicine Associates (RMA) clinics offer fertility preservation and treatment options for trans individuals and couples, both pre- and post- transition.

We are dedicated to helping you plan ahead, or for those who have already transitioned, minimizing the interruption of gender-affirming treatment.
