Conclusion of Conference

2023 Credit Union Legislative Issues

CREDIT UNIONS ARE A CRITICAL PART OF ALABAMA'S ECONOMY SERVING THE NEEDS OF CONSUMERS, COMMUNITIES, AND SMALL BUSINESSES

- Credit unions are not for profit financial institutions, completely owned and governed by their members.
- Because they do not issue stock to outside investors, and are governed by volunteer boards, their sole concern is to serve the members by providing the best financial products and services at the lowest cost. All money earned that is not used for operations or set aside for reserves, is returned to the member in the form of lower interest rates, fewer and lower fees, and higher returns on savings.
- This difference results in a real difference for Alabama's residents. On average, when compared to bank averages in 2021, credit unions in Alabama offer:
 - Over 2.18% lower interest rates on 60-month new car loans.
 - Over 2.81% lower interest rates on 48 month used car loans.
 - .16% higher rates on savings accounts.
 - More than .14% higher rates on Retirement Accounts; and
 - Lower NSF fees and late fees
- Last year, this return to members created over $281 million in benefits to Alabama residents that would not exist without credit unions.
- Without credit unions acting as a damper on bank rates and fees, most banks would be inclined to offer lower returns and higher fees.

CREDIT UNIONS REMAINED SAFE DURING THE FINANCIAL CRISIS, YET REGULATORY BURDEN BORN FROM THE CRISIS CONTINUES

- From January 2008 to September 2010, the height of the economic crisis, credit unions across the country continued their mission of reaching out, serving members and small businesses, and making loans.
- Numerous government agencies continue to push burdensome regulations on credit unions in a one-size-fits-all manner that is harmful not only to Alabama credit unions, but to the members they serve daily.
- Studies show that compliance with these new regulations cost Alabama credit unions and their members over $109 million per year.
- Safe and sound lending was critical in keeping our state and local economies moving during trying economic conditions and credit unions are proud to do their part.

ECONOMIC SOLUTION BUT NEED THE FREEDOM TO DO SO

- Credit unions in Alabama are part of our communities. Nearly all credit unions operating in Alabama are headquartered right here in the state. We know and work to meet the needs of our members here in Alabama.
- Credit unions across Alabama are ready, willing, and able to be part of the solution to economic issues affecting Alabama's consumers, small businesses, and our communities.
- To continue to effectively serve the needs of Alabamians, credit unions need the freedom and environment that enables us to do what we do best.

2023 Credit Union Legislative Issues

INTERCHANGE FEES - SB125

Sponsor: Senator Merika Coleman

- Oppose legislation that alters credit card interchange fees.
- Instead, LSCU will encourage data security legislation that protects consumer data and encourages merchants to accept more transaction liability.
- Financial institutions remain responsible for fraud and data security losses that stem from breaches caused by retailers that do not secure their payment data. Interchange fees cover the cost of fraud detection, credit monitoring, fraudulent purchase protection, and more. State-level legislation has been introduced in the past, prohibiting card-issuing financial institutions from charging interchange fees on the sales tax portion of a retail transaction.

FINANCIAL LITERACY - HB164

Sponsors: Representatives Whitt, Chestnut, Shaw, Lomax, Sorrells, Collins, Crawford, Reynolds, Daniels

- Actively support efforts to have financial literacy included in Alabama's school system.
- Financial literacy is important to all Alabamians, particularly youth graduating from high school and entering the real world. Credit unions are uniquely positioned to help the state of Alabama implement a sound and effective financial literacy program for high school students, as a requirement toward graduation.

ATV TITLING

- Actively support legislation establishing or requiring the titling of all-terrain vehicles.
- Current Alabama law does not allow for the titling of all-terrain vehicles (ATVs). This can lead to fraud and difficulties if there is a lien on the vehicle and it changes ownership without the lien being paid. Legislation making the titling of an ATV optional would be helpful to this process.

Notes

Lt. Governor Will Ainsworth

Lieutenant Governor Will Ainsworth, husband to Kendall and father to Hunter, Hays, and Addie, is a farmer and small business owner from Marshall County. Prior to entering public service, he worked as a youth pastor at Albertville's Grace Fellowship Church. A co-founder of Dream Ranch and the Tennessee Valley Hunting and Fishing Expo, he currently owns Ainsworth Real Estate and Ainsworth Homes, which specialize in residential real estate construction and development. Ainsworth also owns a commercial Hereford and purebred Brahman cattle operation in Guntersville. In 2014, Ainsworth felt the call to serve his community through elected office and won a seat in the Alabama House of Representatives. While serving in the House, he was a champion for public education, passed election integrity legislation, supported pro-business measures, and was active on issues affecting agriculture and protecting family values.

Samantha Beeler, President, LSCU & Affiliates

Samantha Beeler serves as President of the LSCU & Affiliates. She previously served as Vice President of Advocacy for the Northwest Credit Union Association (NWCUA) which was the regional trade association for credit unions in Washington, Oregon, and Idaho. In her role, Samantha manages advocacy, compliance, communications, member engagement, education & training, and the Southeastern Credit Union Foundation. Prior to her work in the credit union industry, she led communications for a Government Contracts Practice group in Washington, D.C. She received her bachelor's degree in Social Science from Washington

State University and did an emersion program in International Relations at Peking University in Beijing, China. Samantha graduated the Executive Education program at Harvard's Kennedy School of Government. She has lived in more than 10 states and served in more than 30 countries. She is a facilitator and speaker on Adaptive Leadership and is certified in moral and ethical leadership coaching.

Blaine Galliher, Principal, Windom Galliher & Associates

A lot of Blaine Galliher's professional life has been guiding products and projects from Point A to Point B. He's learned along the way that while a straight line might be the shortest distance between the two points, it isn't always the usual path. After 18 years in the House of Representatives, Blaine left the legislative sector in 2012 to serve as the Legislative Director and Sr Advisor for Gov. Robert Bentley. Blaine, a manufacturing technology graduate of Jacksonville State University, served in an intelligence unit in the U.S. Army in Central America. He worked for various manufacturers in Gadsden, ultimately rising through the ranks at Gulf States Steel. It was there that his skills to manage projects were honed. Along the way, he got ahead of the curve in understanding that technology would be critical to Alabama jobs in the future, leading to his work with the Alabama Technology Network. Gov. Bentley realized that, too, appointing Blaine to the Workforce Development Council.

Ragan Ingram, Associate Representing Alabama Credit Union Association, Windom Galliher & Associates

Ragan Ingram grew up in Montgomery at the feet of one of Alabama's political journalism legends, the late Bob Ingram. Bedtime stories growing up were about Folsom, Wallace, elections and legislative shenanigans. He followed in his father's footsteps for a 14-year career at the Montgomery Advertiser - most of the time spent in his first love, which was sports writing. In 1997, he left the newspaper world for public relations - specializing in the interplay between politics and media. A year later, Steve Windom asked him to come on board on his campaign team, ultimately serving as campaign manager. He served as communications director during Steve's term as Lieutenant Governor. Following that, he was Assistant Commissioner and Chief of Staff at the Alabama Department of Insurance. Ragan, a graduate of Auburn University Montgomery, and has served as Chairman of the Board of Saint James School, where he and his children graduated. He also was a high school football official for six years and a sports talk radio co-host for four years.

Governor Kay Ivey

In 2002, Kay became the first Republican elected State Treasurer since Reconstruction, and she was re-elected in 2006. She again made history on November 4, 2014, by becoming the first Republican Lieutenant Governor re-elected to the office. On April 10, 2017, Kay was sworn in as the 54th Governor of the state of Alabama. Following a successful nineteen months in office, the people of Alabama made history again in November 2018 by electing Governor Ivey to a full term. She is the first Lt. Governor of Alabama elected to a full term after taking over as governor due to a vacancy in the Governor's Office. On January 14, 2019, Governor Ivey was officially sworn in for her full term and will continue to bring conservative leadership with effective results to make this generation more productive and the next generation more prosperous.

Patrick La Pine, CEO, LSCU & Affiliates

Patrick La Pine serves as CEO of the League of Southeastern Credit Unions & Affiliates which represents the interests of 302 credit unions in Alabama, Florida, and Georgia and their 11.6 million credit union members. Before joining the LSCU & Affiliates in 2009 as its first president and CEO, Patrick worked for the Michigan Credit Union League for more than 10 years, rising to the level of EVP of Association Services. Prior to that, he worked for both the Michigan House of Representatives and the United States Senate. Patrick holds a master's degree from the University of Michigan in Public Administration, and a bachelor's degree from Michigan State University in Political Science.

Nathaniel Ledbetter, Alabama Speaker of the House

Nathaniel Ledbetter of Rainsville, who is serving his third term in the Legislature representing DeKalb County's District 24., was unanimously elected as speaker of the Alabama House of Representatives in January of 2023. During his freshman term as a lawmaker in 2017, Ledbetter was also elected to serve as the House majority leader, a post he held for five years. As majority leader, Ledbetter directed the daily operations on the House floor and managed the flow of legislation. A former mayor and three-term city council member in Rainsville, Ledbetter retired from the Sand Mountain Electric Cooperative after 30 years of service.

Greg McClellan, Administrator, Alabama Credit Union Administration

Greg McClellan is a native of Alexander City, AL. He holds a BS in General Business and an MBA from Auburn University and the School of Banking, Bank Administration Institute, at the University of Wisconsin in Madison, WI. Greg began his career working with bank holding companies, serving as Chief Internal Auditor and as Vice President of Operations and Personnel. In 1984, Greg joined MAX Credit Union and served MAX and its members for over 34 years, retiring as CEO in June 2019. Then, in June, he began serving as Administrator of the Alabama Credit Union Administration.

John McKechnie, Principal of McKechnie LLC

John McKechnie serves as the Principal of McKechnie LLC, previously serving as Senior Partner for Total Spectrum, having been with the firm since 2011. In this role, McKechnie represents a wide variety of credit union and financial services providers on Capitol Hill. This follows five years in government as a Presidential appointee at the National Credit Union Administration (NCUA), where he served three Chairmen in the capacity of Director of Public and Congressional Affairs. McKechnie's career in the credit union industry began in 1987 as the director of political affairs with CUNA. That was the first of many advocacy roles filled by McKechnie—his time with CUNA culminated in a four-year stint as its chief federal lobbyist, heading up its entire federal legislative and political advocacy programs. McKechnie is a frequent speaker at conferences and financial institution planning sessions and is a contributor to national publications such as Bloomberg, the Wall Street Journal, Credit Union Journal and Credit Union Times. He is a 1983 graduate of Loyola College in Maryland, and resides in Bethesda, Maryland.

Lloyd Moore, Assistant Administrator, Alabama Credit Union Administration

Lloyd Moore is an accomplished credit union regulator and supervisor having served with the Credit Union Administration for over 26 years. He has served as assistant administrator for the Credit Union Administration for over 12 years and served as interim administrator during a transition period in 2014. Lloyd has served under five different administrators and has overseen or participated in examinations of over 102 credit unions. Prior to his time with the ACUA, Lloyd served as an internal auditor for First Alabama Bankshares and Colonial BancGroup, and an auditor with the National Credit Union Administration. He is a graduate of Auburn University with a B.S. in Finance.

Grace Newcombe, Vice President of Federal Advocacy & Communications, LSCU

Grace Newcombe joined the League of Southeastern Credit Unions & Affiliates in 2021 as the Sr. Director of Federal Advocacy and Communications, where she serves credit unions in Alabama, Florida, and Georgia. Grace came to the League after serving as the Director of Communications and Governmental Relations for the Alabama Secretary of State's Office. She graduated with a degree in Political Science and English from the University of South Alabama, where she also served as President of the Student Body.

David Pace, Manager, Regulatory Advocacy, LSCU

David Pace graduated from Georgia State University in 2020 with a Bachelor of Business Administration with a concentration on Finance. While in college he worked for Associated Credit Union as a Risk Management Assistant focusing on third-party due diligence. After graduating he got a job with the Nebraska Department of Banking and Finance as a FinTech Examiner who specialized Money Service Businesses and cryptocurrency companies. He is now the Manager of Regulatory Advocacy with LSCU.

Michelle Roth, Senior Director of Governmental Affairs, LSCU

Michelle serves as Alabama's Sr. Director of Govt Affairs and directs the League's lobbying and advocacy efforts in Alabama. Her years of experience in advocacy, community and member relations help her to champion the industry-driven state legislative and regulatory issues agendas as well as developing and maintaining favorable relationships with lawmakers, executive leaders, and credit unions across the state. Formerly the Executive Director of the AL Cable & Broadband Assoc, she led efforts to help expand statewide internet access connecting low income and rural Alabamians. Michelle was previously the Program Manager for Leadership Alabama. Michelle holds the designation of Certified Association Executive (CAE), the highest professional credential in the association industry.

Amanda W. Senn, Chief Deputy Director, Alabama Securities Commission

Amanda has served as Chief Deputy Director for the Alabama Securities Commission since 2008; responsible for advising the Commission on securities-related matters, investigating and prosecuting fraudulent actions surrounding the sales of securities throughout the state of Alabama, and has coordinated and litigated numerous multi-jurisdictional administrative, civil, and criminal matters. She also serves as a legislative liaison for the Commission. In that capacity, she advocates for investor protections and market integrity in Alabama. Amanda is involved on both the State and local level in various organizations which address issues and promote awareness of Elder Abuse and Investment Fraud; including the Montgomery County Elder Justice Task Force and the Alabama Interagency Council for the Prevention of Elder Abuse. She is actively involved in the North American Securities Administrators Association (NASAA), Co-Chair of the Broker Dealer Market and Regulatory Policy Committee and Co-Chair of the Enforcement Section. A frequent speaker on Alabama's securities laws and Elder Justice, an instructor in a securities litigation course offered through NASAA, and has testified before the United State House of Representatives Comm. on Financial Services Subcommittee on National Security, International Development and Monetary Policy on fraud and elder exploitation. She is a member of the American Inns of Court, serves as Treasurer of the Montgomery County Bar Association, and as Past President of the AL Association of Regulatory Boards (AARB).

Sydney Seral, Vice President of Advocacy, LSCU

Sydney Seral serves the League of Southeastern Credit Unions & Affiliates (LSCU) as the Vice President of Advocacy after starting her career with the LSCU as Senior Director of Governmental Affairs for Georgia's state and federal advocacy initiatives in June of 2020. Prior to joining the League, Sydney worked for the American Chemistry Council in various capacities, most recently as the Director of Political Mobilization, ACC's grassroots advocacy department. She represented the chemical and plastics industries across the 13-state Southern Region on both state and federal advocacy initiatives. Before working for the American Chemistry Council, Sydney worked at the Georgia State Senate in various capacities and ran a successful campaign for current Senate President Pro Tempore John F. Kennedy, a then first-time candidate from Macon, GA, as well as other Georgia statewide and State Senate campaigns. Seral is a proud Double Dawg, having earned undergraduate degrees in Political Science and Psychology from the University of Georgia, returning a few years later to earn an MBA. She and her husband James live in Atlanta with their cockapoo named Mozzy.

Representative Mike Shaw, Chief Technology Officer, Mutual Savings Credit Union

Mike holds a degree in Public Administration from Auburn but started a career in technology in 1995 when he realized you can't eat politics. The majority of his subsequent technology career has been spent in the credit union industry--serving as SVP and Chief Technology Officer at Mutual Savings Credit Union for 18 of his 28-year career in tech. Prior to Mutual Savings, he worked at software related CUSO. Mike jumped back into politics in 2016 by running for City Council in Hoover. He was re-elected by the people of Hoover in 2020 with 78% of the vote. In November 2022 Mike was elected to the Alabama State House in District 47--the district in which he has lived since he was 10 years old. He serves on the Financial Services, State Government, and Ethics and Finance committees.

Mat Willey, Deputy Director of Grassroots Advocacy, LSCU

Mat serves as the Deputy Director of Grassroots Advocacy for LSCU. He has an extensive campaign and grassroots background and recently managed a Senate campaign in Iowa. His experience in grassroots advocacy includes work on a statewide initiative, stints on both a U.S. Congressional and U.S. Senate race, and two nationwide campaigns. Before this, Mat spent more than seven years working throughout the Southeast in marketing, communications, and sales. Outside of work, Mat enjoys hanging out with his son, spending time outdoors, and watching St. Louis Blues hockey.

Steve Windom, Founder and Principal, Galliher & Associates

Steve Windom was Alabama's first Republican Lieutenant Governor since Reconstruction. This was after nine years in the Senate - primarily in the 1990s - where he guided legislation to reform the state's consumer finance code and served as the point person on tort reform issues. As Lieutenant Governor, he finished the job on tort reform and championed a law that would provide reconstructive surgeries for women with breast cancer on Medicaid. Upon leaving office, he formed his own lobbying operation, Steve Windom, LLC, which now operates as Windom, Galliher and Associates. Steve, who holds undergraduate and law degrees from the University of Alabama, is married to Judge Mary Becker Windom, the presiding judge of the Alabama Court of Criminal Appeals. He loves his dogs, vintage automobiles and boats with the same passion he has in working for his clients.

Lawmaker of the Year - Senator Chris Elliott

Chris Elliott is an active member of the Alabama Senate and serves as a leader on several legislative committees where he helps shape good legislation for Alabama. He has been recognized as one of the Mobile Area's top 40 Under 40 young leaders and, the Yellowhammer Power & Influence 50. He is a graduate of the Alabama Leadership Initiative and Leadership Alabama. In 2020 Senator Elliott was recognized as an Emerging Legislative Leader by the State Legislative Leaders Foundation and the University of Virginia's Darden School of Business and has been recognized as legislator of the year for numerous statewide associations. Senator Elliott formerly served as the Chairman of the Baldwin County Commission and the Chairman of the Eastern Shore Metropolitan Planning Organization, as well as on various national, statewide, and countywide boards and committees.

Senator Elliott continues to be a supporter of credit union goals serving Alabamians. Last year, he successfully carried LSCU's goal of titling marine vessels across the finish line. This important legislation allowed credit unions to place titling requirements in any loan agreement and provide certainty and lien status at the time of purchase or sale. LSCU appreciates his leadership and effort to help reach this legislative goal.
